Contents

List of Illustrations vii
Acknowledgments ix

Chapter I
Toward an Aesthetics of Narrative Performance 1
The Starting Point: Overlapping ‘Performative’ and ‘Narrative Turns’ 1
An Aesthetics of Narrative Performance 7
Narratological Drama 12
Antinarrative Acts: Performance Theory 24
The Aesthetics of Narrative Performance at ‘Location Germany’ 40

Chapter II
Theatrical Narratives: Film ‘Made in Germany’ Around 2000 49
Camp Reconfigurations: Lola und Bilidikid 50
Performing Subversion through Narrative: Sonnenallee 67
Historical Integration: Good Bye, Lenin! 79
Conclusion 89

Chapter III
Evoking Presence—in Mediation:
Literary Scenarios at the Turn of the Century 91
Managing New Media Snapshots: Goetz’s Abfall für alle 93
Posing for Presence: The Voices of Zaimoğlu’s Kanakstas 103
Presentification-at-a-Distance: Özdamar’s Seltsame Sterne starren zur Erde 112
Epic Recording: Zeh’s Eagles and Angels 124
Conclusion 132
CONTENTS

Chapter IV
Epic Commentary and Affective Presencing: Contemporary Theater 135
Evoking Community in Onstage Narration: “This is not about sadness” 137
From Self-Reflexive Testimonial to Housewife Spectacle:
I Am My Own Wife 145
Orientalist Camp: Der Leopard von Singapur 157
Pablo’s Stories, or Complexity Soap in Telefavela and Plusfiliale 169
Conclusion 182

Chapter V
Like God’s Voice? The Return of Authoritative Narration 184
The Quest for Heavenly Guidance: Zeh’s Spieltrieb 187
Jesus W. Bush and His Embedded Couch Potatoes:
In Bambiland (with The Persians) 200
Smart(ass), Nerdy, and Google-powered: Earthly Sense-Making in Foer’s Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close 214
Conclusion 224

Chapter VI
A New Aesthetics of Proximity: The Turn to Presence 227
First-Person Spectacle: Schwarze Jungfrauen 231
Humanist Close-Ups: Der Kick 239
Phenomenological Bracketing: Yella 249
Bringing the War Affectively Home: A Hero’s Welcome 258
Conclusion 265

In Summary
Gestures of Closure 268

Works Cited 275
Index 302