

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
To the Language Learner	xi
CHAPTER 1 Preliminaries	1
Overview of the Book	1
First Language Learning	4
Second Language Learning	13
Exercises	18
References	18
SECTION I SOUNDING LIKE A NATIVE SPEAKER	19
CHAPTER 2 Foreign Accents	21
Knowing How to Speak a Language	21
Dealing with Unfamiliar Sounds	22
Dealing with Unfamiliar Sequences of Sounds	25
Dealing with Unfamiliar Syllable-, Word-, and Sentence-Level Properties	27
Summary	29
Reference	30
CHAPTER 3 How to Make a Consonant	31
Introduction	31
Creating Speech Sounds	34
Parts of the Vocal Tract Involved in Making Sounds	35

	Places Where the Air Passage Is Narrowed for Consonants	36
	Narrowness of the Air Passage	41
	Air Flow through the Nose and Mouth	44
	Position of the Vocal Folds	45
	Length of the Consonant	47
	Summary	48
	Additional Exercise: Comparing Consonants	49
	References	50
Chapter 4	How to Make a Vowel	51
	Introduction	51
	Parts of the Vocal Tract Involved in Making Vowels	51
	Places Where the Air Passage Is Narrowed for Vowels	52
	Narrowness of the Air Passage	54
	The Shape of the Lips	56
	Changing Vowel Quality from Start to Finish: Diphthongs	57
	Air Flow through the Mouth and Nose	58
	Length of the Vowel	59
	Summary	60
	Additional Exercise: Comparing Vowels	61
	Reference	61
Chapter 5	Putting Sounds Together	62
	Introduction	62
	Sound Sequences in English and Other Languages	64
	Summary	70
	Exercises	70
	References	72
Chapter 6	Common Pronunciation Errors	73
	Interpreting Unfamiliar Symbols	73
	Aspiration	74
	Alveolar vs. Dental Consonants	77
	Flapping	80
	Released and Unreleased Stop Consonants	81
	Full and Reduced Vowels	82
	Monophthongs vs. Diphthongs	83
	Unrounded Back Vowels	84
	Summary	85
SECTION II	THINKING LIKE A NATIVE SPEAKER	87
Chapter 7	The Work That Language Does	89
	Accent: A Feeling for Form	89

	An Example: Communicating an Idea	90
	Form, Content, Function, and Force	93
	Grammar: The Role of Form in Language	95
	What Is Structure?	97
	Categories	98
	Summary	102
	Additional Exercises	103
	References	103
Chapter 8	Talking about Things	104
	Introduction	104
	Nouns	105
	Do Other Languages Have Nouns?	107
	Determiners	109
	Adjectives	118
	Relative Clauses	126
	Summary	130
	Additional Exercise	131
	References	131
Chapter 9	Expressing Meaning	132
	Some Errors in English	132
	Verbs and Verb Phrases	134
	Identifying the Participants in an Event or State	138
	Subject and Object across Languages	142
	Actives and Passives	148
	Time and Truth	152
	English Auxiliary Verbs	161
	Expressing Sentence Function	162
	Summary	169
	Additional Exercises	170
	References	171
SECTION III	ACTING LIKE A NATIVE SPEAKER	173
Chapter 10	The Link between Language and Culture	175
	Introduction	175
	Language and Culture	177
	Language Varieties	180
	Language Attitudes	181
	Gesture	187
	Summary	193
	References	193

Chapter 11	Politeness	194
	Introduction	194
	Solidarity and Deference	195
	Expressing Politeness in English	196
	Politeness across Cultures	198
	The Expression of Politeness in Grammar	202
	Summary	207
	References	207
Chapter 12	Swearing, Insults, and Taboos	209
	Introduction	209
	Swearing, Insults, and Language Learning	210
	Common Bases for Swearing and Insults across Cultures	211
	Summary	215
	References	215
Chapter 13	Conclusion	216
	Language Is a Human Phenomenon	216
	Language Is a Skill, and Practice Is Essential	216
	There Is a Social Aspect to Language	217
	Look at Your Own Language	217
	How to Use This Knowledge	218
	Subject Index	219
	Language Index	225