

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Part One • Introduction
1 Beyond Liberalism? Loren Glass and Charles Francis Williams	3
2 The Obscene in Everyday Life Michael Taussig	14
Part Two • The Triumph of Liberalism
3 Defending the F-Word: Freedom! Nadine Strossen	25
4 “Guessing Oneself into Jail”: Morris Ernst and the Assault on American Obscenity Law in the 1930s Brett Gary	50
Part Three • The Limits of Liberalism
5 Sex/Body/Self: A Performance and Rant for the Obscenity Conference Tim Miller	71
6 Forging Hetero-Collectives: Obscenity Law in India Jyoti Puri	91
7 “I’m Offended” Laura Kipnis	115

8	Pecunia Olet: Affluence, Effluence, and Obscenity Mikita Brottman and David Sterritt	130
9	Preludes to a Theory of Obscenity John Durham Peters	146
	Select Bibliography	167
	Contributors	169
	Index	171