List of Illustrations vii
Acknowledgments ix

INTRODUCTION  Factual Places and Fictional Routes 1

PART I  NARRATING AND DESCRIBING WEST AFRICA

1  The Enchanted Arrival: Passage into West Africa in the Travel Writings of Blaise Cendrars, André Gide, and Graham Greene 41

2  The Rhetoric of the Mad African Forest in Joseph Conrad, Louis-Ferdinand Céline, and Graham Greene 69

3  Travel Narrative between Spatial Sequence and Open Consequence in Graham Greene's Journey Without Maps 88

PART II  TRAVEL WRITING AND THE NOVEL

4  The Immediacy of Reading: André Gide's Travel Fact and Travel Fictions 113

5  The Incongruous Worlds of Evelyn Waugh's Ethiopia 147

6  A Critique of the African Picturesque in Georges Simenon's Travel Reportages and Novels 183
PART III • INVENTIONS OF LIFE NARRATIVE

7 Virtual Genres in Pierre Loti’s and Joseph Conrad’s African Travel Diaries and Fiction 221
8 Out of Europe: The African Palimpsest in Michel Leiris’s L’Afrique fantôme 240
9 Africanist Paradoxes of Storytelling in Karen Blixen’s Out of Africa 266

IN CONCLUSION Fiction, Colonial Travel Narrative, and the Allegorist 292

References 305
Index 317