

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction
Jennifer S. Tuttle and Carol Farley Kessler	1
PART I. BIOGRAPHICAL AND CRITICAL OVERVIEWS
Chapter 1 “that pure New England stock”: Charlotte Perkins Gilman and the Construction of Identity
Denise D. Knight	27
Chapter 2 Looking Backward: Rereading Gilman in the Early Twenty-First Century
Catherine J. Golden	44
PART II. NEW TEXTS
Chapter 3 The Torn Voice in “The Giant Wistaria” and “The Unnatural Mother”
Jill Rudd	69
Chapter 4 An “Absent Mother”: Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Mag—Marjorie , and the Politics of Maternal Responsibility
Charlotte J. Rich	85
Chapter 5 Turning “The Balsam Fir” into Mag—Marjorie : Generic Transposition in Charlotte Perkins Gilman’s Imaginative Economy
Frederick Wegener	103

Contents

Chapter 6	“The Same Revulsion against Them All”: Ida Tarbell and Charlotte Perkins Gilman’s Suffrage Dialogue Aleta Feinsod Cane	122
Chapter 7	Doing It “man-fashion”: Gender Performance in Charlotte Perkins Gilman’s Unpunished Jill Bergman	140
PART III. NEW CONTEXTS
Chapter 8	“There are things in that paper that nobody knows but me”: An Alternative Reading of Neurasthenia Jennifer Lunden	161
Chapter 9	The Yellow Newspaper: Charlotte Perkins Gilman and Sensational Journalism Sari Edelstein	180
Chapter 10	The Madwoman’s Other Sisters: Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Gloria Naylor, and the Re-Inscription of Loss Caroline Brown	200
Chapter 11	Feminist Humor and Charlotte Perkins Gilman Shelley Fisher Fishkin	222
Contributors		251
Index		255