Bibliography

Primary Sources

The Arte or Crafte to Lyue Well or to Deye Well. N.p., 1506. STC 793.

[Dance of Death.] "Marke well the effect, purtreyed here in all." N.p., n.d. [ca. 1580]. STC 6223.

Deaths Daunce. N.p., 1631. STC 6444.

Elizabeth I. Proclamation, 16 May 1559. STC 7896.

Map of Mortalitie. N.p., 1604. STC 17294.

Rickey, Mary Ellen, and Thomas B. Stroup, eds. Certaine Sermons or Homilies Appointed to Be Read in Churches. 1623 ed. Gainesville, Fla.: Scholars' Facsimiles & Reprints, 1968.

Secondary Sources

Bibliography

-. "The Ultimate Source of Tamburlaine’s White, Red, Black and Death?" Notes and Queries, n.s. 5 (1958): 146–47.

_____. “‘There It Goes’— or Does It?: Thunder in The Revenger's Tragedy and a Catch-Phrase in Shakespeare, Marlowe, and Middleton.” English Language Notes 13 (1975): 6-10.

Parrish, Paul A. “‘Tis Pity She’s a Whore and the Mannerist Perspective.” South Central Renaissance Conference, Monroe, La. 18 April 1980.

