CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ix
Short Titles xi

Introduction 1

Part 1: Situating Booth

1. Teaching the Topics: Character, Rhetoric, and Liberal Education 19
   WALTER JOST

2. Cultural Literacy: Concepts and Information 40
   FRANCIS-NOËL THOMAS

Part 2: Ethics and Fictions

3. Wayne Booth and the Ethics of Fiction 59
   MONICA JOHNSTONE

4. Elie Wiesel and the Ethics of Fiction 71
   SUSAN E. SHAPIRO

5. Booth, Bakhtin, and the Culture of Criticism 88
   DON H. BIALOSTOSKY

6. From Pluralism to Heteroglossia: Wayne Booth and the Pragmatics of Critical Reviewing 104
   DAVID RICHTER

Part 3: Rhetoric and Politics

7. Pluralism, Politics, and the Evaluation of Criticism 119
   JAMES PHelan
Contents

8. Wayne Booth and the Politics of Ethics
   BARBARA FOLEY

9. Learning to Read Martin Luther King’s “Pilgrimage to Nonviolence”: Wayne Booth, Character, and the Ethical Criticism of Public Address
   FREDERICK J. ANTCZAK

Part 4: Booth across Disciplines

    PETER J. RABINOWITZ

11. Keeping the Company of Sophisters, Economists, and Calculators
    DONALD N. MCCLOSKEY

12. Saying What Goes without Saying: The Rhetoric of Bacon’s Essays
    EUGENE GARVER

Part 5: Booth, Assent, and Argument

13. Wayne Booth and the Ethics of Argument
    PATSY CALLAGHAN AND ANN DOBYNS

14. The Logic and Rhetoric of Systematic Assent
    ALAN BRINTON

15. Rhetoric without Sophistry: Wayne Booth and the Rhetoric of Inquiry
    JAMES B. MCOMBER

Afterword: Let Us All Mount Our Good Chargers, Whatever Their Names, and Gallop Off Joyfully in All Directions, a Mysteriously United Company Serving the Empress of All the Sciences, Rhetoric

WAYNE BOOTH
Contents

Bibliography: Wayne C. Booth 309
Compiled by Lee Artz

Contributors 323

Index 327