CONTENTS

Illustrations vii
Acknowledgments ix
Note on Documentation xiii
Introduction: The Protean Thackeray 3

Part One: "The Humorous Ego": Panoramic Vision
1 "The Whole Edifice of Humanity" 17
2 "Literature and the Fine Harts" 57
3 "The Great Drama of the World" 87
4 "Our Darling Romances" 113

Part Two: "The Laughing Philosopher": Fraser's Period
5 Catherine; or, "Unmixed Rascality" 147
6 The Great Hoggarty Diamond: A Moral and Economical Tale 173
7 Barry Lyndon: Irish Heroes and Demireps 201

Part Three: "The Punch Connexion": The Moralist of the Booths
8 Vanity Fair; or, The Mysteries of Mayfair 231
9 Pendennis; or, The Man of the World 274

Part Four: "The Week-Day Preacher": The Novelist as Public Educator
10 Henry Esmond; or, The Complete Cavalier 313
11 The Newcomes: Families Respectable and Otherwise  356
12 The Virginians: The Old World and the New  394
13 "The Preacher of Cornhill": Roundabout and Retrospect  426

Chronology: Some Significant Events in Thackeray's Career  459

Index  471
Thackeray about age 29. From a drawing by Daniel Maclise (ca. 1840) Title page
“Mr. Michael Angelo Titmarsh as he appeared at Willis’ Rooms in his celebrated character of Mr. Thackeray,” by John Leech 8
Thackeray at age 21. From a drawing by Daniel Maclise (1832) 18

Vanity Fair: chapter 47, initial letter A (imp dangling two silver forks) 247
Vanity Fair: chapter 44, initial letter O (Becky as a Lorelei) 259
Vanity Fair: chapter 47, cut of children playing under the family escutcheon 264

Pendennis: allegorical design on wrapper of monthly parts 302
Pendennis: variant of design on title page of volume 1, first edition in book form 303

Caricature of Clio by Thackeray, drawn in his copy of Rollin’s Ancient History 347

The Newcomes: pages from Newcomes Advertiser in part 4 358–59

Denis Duval manuscript: pencil sketch by Thackeray showing Denis reading in Thackeray’s armchair, figure of Father Time in the background 451